

Welcome/Bienvenidos

Letter from the Director/Carta Enviada por el Director

Dear SPIN supporters,

You probably have one in your pocket right now. Here in Santa Cruz County and San Benito County, we reminisce about the days when it only took one to ride the bus or for a gallon of gas. It is one of the humblest among our mediums of exchange. It is the $1 bill.

Sometimes we don't think to give in small amounts because we don't think it will be enough to make a difference. Giving a donation of $1 to a cause seems almost a joke. Consider, however, an often-cited statistic in the discourse of international development and aid: "Half of the world's population lives on less than $1 a day." This fact turns that kind of thinking on its head. $1 can mean life, education, food, water, and health to millions of people around the world. And $1 mobilized from each person in a community or network has the power to effect a great deal of change. (The pun, of course, is intended.)

Every dollar helps, and we are specifically asking for donations in the amount of $1.

Special Olympics has done it, Lance Armstrong Foundation has done it. Now SPIN is doing it.

Inspired by the power of one—one person, one dollar, one day at time—you can make a difference to SPIN.

That $1 in your pocket? It may be worth more than you think. That kind of giving could become a habit!

Thanks. If you took the time to read this, you are #1 in my book!

Estimados partidarios de SPIN,

Usted probablemente tiene uno en su bolsillo en este momento. Aquí en el Condado de Santa Cruz y el Condado de San Benito, nosotros recordamos el pasado cuando en aquellos días sólo tomaba uno para usar el autobús o para un galón de gasolina. Es uno de los más humildes entre nuestros medios de cambio. Es un billete de $1

A veces nosotros no pensamos en dar cantidades pequeñas porque nosotros no pensamos que será suficiente para hacer una diferencia. Dar un donativo de $1 a una causa parece casi un chiste. Considere, sin embargo, una estadística a menudo-citada en el discurso del desarrollo y la ayuda internacional: "La mitad de la población del mundo vive en menos de un $1 al día". Este hecho voltea esta clase de pensamiento en su cabeza. $1 puede significar la vida, la educación, el alimento, el agua, y la salud a millones de personas alrededor del mundo. Y $1 movilizado de cada persona en una comunidad o una red tiene el poder de realizar mucho cambio. (Cambio iguala a Cambio)

Todo dólar ayuda, y nosotros pedimos específicamente donativos en la cantidad de $1.

Las olimpiadas Especiales lo han hecho, La Fundación de Lance Armstrong lo ha hecho. Ahora SPIN lo está haciendo.

Inspirado por el poder de uno—una persona, un dólar, un día a la vez—usted puede hacer una diferencia para SPIN.

¿Ese $1 en su bolsillo? Puede valer más de lo que usted piensa. ¡Dar de esa manera podría llegar a ser un hábito!

Gracias. ¡Si usted tomó tiempo para leer esto, usted es #1 en mi libro!

Parent Testimonial

Por AMANDA OWENS

Our son, James, is our firstborn, and to the outsider, he looks like an average 11-year-old boy. However, his story is so much more than average...

James was definitely a cute baby – cuter than the average baby, actually; at least to me and my husband, Tom! And as an infant in the early weeks, James even seemed average. He ate, he slept, and he pooped. Pretty average. But remember, Tom and I were new parents; James was our first child. We basically thought that babies did just this, and not a whole lot more.

So as the days went by, and James continued to eat, sleep and poop, life seemed, well...average. We were thrilled to have a little son, and started dreaming about all the wonderful things he'd do as he grew up. We envisioned play-dates at the park, Little-league, bug-collecting, science projects, football games, first dates, proms, and graduations... But when James was just five weeks old, and I joined a new mom's group, I slowly came to realize, with an awful ache in my heart, that James quite possibly was not so average. As time went by, James' peers were starting to do new things, like steadily hold their heads up, push up on their arms, and eventually sit without assistance. With aching disappointment, and even a little jealousy, I watched as James' peers were quickly making their developmental milestones, while he was not. I knew in my heart that something was terribly wrong.

James was definitely developing socially. He smiled, he cooed, and he got lots of compliments regarding his cuteness, and especially his newly developing RED hair! But physically and mentally, he was definitely lagging behind his peers. So, at six months, when it was the "appropriate" time for an objective developmental assessment (according to the doctors), Tom and I insisted on an assessment for James. He was assessed here locally in Santa Cruz, and it was quickly determined that yes, indeed, he should be seen by a neurologist, because clearly James was not typically developing. Clearly, James was indeed not "average."

So off to Stanford our little family went, only to find that James not only had a plethora of developmental delays, he likely had a neuro-metabolic issue as well, and possibly something metabolically life-threatening. Our devastation of hearing this news could not be measured...our world immediately started to crash down around us at that moment. And it was on this day that our lives changed forever.

The weeks and months went by, and after more than two long years of searching for the root of James' issues; including multiple visits to specialists, and multiple blood tests and MRI's, we were finally graced with a diagnosis for him. We had to travel cross-country to get the diagnosis, from one of the most renowned neuro-metabolic specialists in the country, but the long trek, both physically and emotionally, was worth it to us, as this was where we were finally told James' issues were definitely not life-threatening. We now knew in our hearts that although our journey would be long, and sometimes arduous, we would still have our sweet boy by our sides.

Thankfully, along the way, I found SPIN. I just happened to see a flyer on the bulletin board at CCS, where James went for P/T and O/T each week. And at that moment, our lives changed once again...this time, thankfully, in a more positive way. To this day, I am so incredibly grateful that I found SPIN.

James is still not an average child, but he's got a good life. He's in a great school, he has a wonderfully dedicated teacher, a caring and conscientious pediatrician, a supportive extended family, friends who love and accept him for who he is, and a younger sister who adores him and is sensitive and empathetic to his not-so-average ways. And although he's not so average, he's had a lot of opportunities to participate in some pretty average things, like adapted snow-skiing, horseback riding, swimming, Boogie-boarding, riding roller-coasters, and sailing on the O'Neil Sea Odyssey. We believe these things have been made more possible because of the good work SPIN does in our community; by enlightening families, teachers, and professionals in a positive way about special needs children, and how they affect the lives of their families and people supporting them.

Testimonio de Padres

POR AMANDA OWENS

Nuestro hijo, James, es nuestro primogénito, y para cualquier persona, él parece un niño típico de 11 años. Sin embargo, su historia es más que típica...

¡James fue definitivamente un bebé precioso – más precioso que el bebé típico, realmente...por lo menos así era para mi y mi esposo, Tom! Y como un infante en las primeras semanas, James parecía típico. El comía, dormía, y hacía del baño. Muy típico. Ahora recuerde, Tom y yo éramos padres primerizos. James era nuestro primer bebé. Pensábamos que los bebés hacían justo esto, y nada más.

Así que como los días fueron pasando, y James continuo comiendo, durmiendo y haciendo del baño la vida parecida, pues...normal. Nosotros nos sentíamos estremecidos por tener un hijo pequeño, y empezamos a soñar acerca de todas las cosas maravillosas que él haría a lo largo de su crecimiento. Nos imaginamos citas para jugar en el parque, Liga de béisbol, colección de bichos, puestos de limonada, proyectos de ciencia, juegos de fútbol, primeras citas amorosas, bailes del colegio, graduaciones... Pero cuando James tenía cinco semanas de nacido, y yo me uní a un grupo para mamás primerizas, yo poco a poco empecé a darme cuenta, con un dolor en el corazón, que James quizás no era tan típico. Con el paso del tiempo, los compañeros de James comenzaban a hacer nuevas cosas, por ejemplo sostenían sus cabecitas hacia arriba, empujarse hacia arriba con sus brazos, y finalmente se sientan sin ayuda. Con desilusión dolorosa, e incluso un poco celosa, yo miré como los compañeros de James alcanzaban rápidamente sus etapas de desarrollo, mientras que él no. Supe en mi corazón que algo andaba terriblemente mal.

James definitivamente se estaba desarrollando socialmente. ¡El sonreía, balbuceaba, recibía muchos cumplidos con respecto a su monería, y especialmente por su nuevo pelo ROJO que se le estaba desarrollando! Pero físicamente y mentalmente, él se quedaba atrás definitivamente de sus compañeros. A los seis meses cuando, según los médicos, era el tiempo “apropiado” para una evaluación objetiva de desarrollo, Tom y yo insistimos en una evaluación para James. El fue evaluado aquí localmente en Santa Cruz, y fue determinado rápidamente que sí, verdaderamente, él debería ser visto por un neurólogo, porque claramente James no se estaba desarrollando típicamente. Claramente, James verdaderamente no era “típico”.

Así que hacia Stanford nuestra pequeña familia fue, sólo para averiguar que James tenía una plétora de demoras de desarrollo, probablemente algo metabólicamente mal, e incluso posiblemente algo metabólicamente que amenazaba su vida. Nuestra devastación al oír estas noticias no puede medirse...nuestro mundo comenzó inmediatamente a caerse alrededor de nosotros. Y fue en este día que nuestras vidas cambiaron para siempre.

Las semanas y los meses pasaron, y después de más de dos largos años de buscar la raíz de los asuntos de James, incluyendo múltiples visitas a especialistas, múltiples análisis de sangre, y MRIs, finalmente fuimos agraciados con un diagnóstico para él. Tuvimos que viajar a otro estado para conseguir el diagnóstico, de uno de los especialistas metabólico más renombrado en el país, pero la jornada ardua larga, físicamente y emocionalmente, valió la pena para nosotros, porque ahí fue donde nosotros supimos por último que los asuntos de James no amenazaban su vida. Ahora sabíamos en nuestro corazón que aunque nuestro viaje sería largo, y a veces arduo, seguiríamos teniendo a nuestro niño dulce a un lado.

Agradecidamente, en el camino, yo encontré a SPIN. Me cruce con un volante de SPIN en el boletín de CCS, donde James acudía para terapia física y ocupacional cada semana. Y en ese momento, Nuestras vidas cambiaron una vez más...esta vez, agradecidamente, en una manera más positiva. Hasta este día, yo estoy increíblemente agradecida por que encontré a SPIN.

James todavía no es un niño típico, pero él tiene una vida buena. El está en una gran escuela, él tiene un maestro maravillosamente dedicado, un pediatra que lo cuida y es concienzudo, una familia que lo apoya, amigos que lo adoran y lo aceptan tal y como es, y una hermana pequeña que lo adora y acepta sus maneras no tan típicas con sensibilidad y empatía. Y aunque él no es tan típico, él ha tenido muchas oportunidades de tomar parte en algunas cosas bastante típicas, como esquiar en la nieve de una manera adaptada, montar a caballo, natación, Boogie-boarding, subirse a la montaña rusa, y navegar en la Odisea del Mar de O’Neil. Creemos que estas cosas se han hecho más posibles gracias al buen trabajo que SPIN hace en nuestra comunidad; iluminando a familias, maestros, y profesionales de una manera positiva acerca de los niños con necesidades especiales, y cómo ellos afectan las vidas de sus familias y las personas que los apoyan.

Greetings! My name is Lisa French. I am very happy to be part of the SPIN organization. I have worked in Santa Cruz County as a bilingual School Psychologist for over 20 years. I have focused most of my work with young children, from preschool through 5th grade, for the most part of my career. I enjoy working with parents and trying to help them negotiate the system of Special Education, especially parents of preschoolers. I worked in Watsonville, for PVUSD, for 13 years before accepting a position with Santa Cruz City Schools. I live in Live Oak with my husband John and have two sons, ages 13 and 17. I strongly believe that public education is one of the most powerful vehicles for influencing our youth. I look forward to working with SPIN and would especially like to foster good working relationships between families and schools.

iSaludos! Me llamo Lisa French. Estoy muy contenta de ser parte de la organización de SPIN. He trabajado en el condado de Santa Cruz por más de 20 años. El enfoque de mi trabajo ha sido con niños jóvenes, entre las edades de 3 hasta 11, por casi toda mi carrera. Me gusta más que nada trabajar con padres, para ayudarles entender mejor el sistema de educación especial, particularmente los padres de niños pre-escolares. Trabajé en Watsonville, para el distrito PVUSD, por 13 años antes de aceptar un puesto con Santa Cruz City Schools. Vivo en Live Oak, con mi esposo John, y nuestros hijos, de edades 13 y 17 años. Tengo la creencia fuerte que el sistema de educación pública es uno de los vínculos más poderosos que hay para influir a los jóvenes. Anticipo trabajar con SPIN y me gustaría especialmente ayudar a fomentar buenas relaciones entre familias y las escuelas.
